Looking to Join a Book Club? We'd Like to Start One.

(TEMPLE, TX) - Are you looking for a book club to join? Book clubs are small informal groups that meet to discuss books and related topics. The Temple Public Library would like to sponsor a book club that would meet at the library. To aid the staff in planning for a book club, a brief questionnaire is available at the library to give the staff feedback on such questions as to what type of books members would like to read, what day of the week and time of day the meetings should be scheduled, and how the group should be organized (who will facilitate the discussions). As an alternative to coming to the library to fill out the questionnaire, answers to the above questions along with contact information can be e-mailed to Judy Duer at jduer@ci.temple.tx.us .

According to Library Director Judy Duer, "We often have patrons asking us how to find book clubs to join. Since most of the book clubs we are aware of are private groups of friends, we decided to start one at the library which will be open to anyone who is interested." After the completion of the library's current expansion project there will be a reading lounge on the first floor of the library which the staff feels would be a great setting for a book discussion group. "But in the meantime, the Board and McLane Rooms are available for meetings," states Duer. If you have any questions about the book club program, please call 298-5559.
